LES FILLES D'AMÀLIA is a project born in celler del roure but that might fly away one day, meaning that mandó will be horse-riding in search for a Mediterranean touch, fresher and fresh. We have a long trip ahead of us, full of adventures and knowledge.

My mum is called Amalia and this collection of wines that will be in fact two, one still (les prunes) and the other one sparkling (les danses), is in her honour. I promised her that one day we would produce a sweet wine called "Dolç d'Amàlia" but years have passed and it is still in project. So while the sweet one comes, we want to honour her with two wines that must be as nice and delicate as the scented flowers that she takes care in her garden. Les filles d'Amàlia means Amalia's daughters, my sisters. This project is also related to them and their vineyards in El Bosquet and Casa Pitxó and also because they have also helped us a lot to get here and they also deserve some acknowledgment.

The front label says BLANC DE MANDÓ because it is producing a white wine with this unfairly forgotten red variety that one day made us fall in love with and it is called mandó. The back label says VI VERGE and this is because it has no pressed wine, only virgin most; and also ROSAT because in the end it comes that this white wine is in fact pink.
